

2007 Biofuels in Western Australia Seminar

Organised by:
WA SEA and STC
 2007 Biofuels in Western Australia Seminar
 Wednesday, 9th May, 2007
 Novotel Langley Perth
 221 Adelaide Terrace, Perth

Following the success of the 2006 Biofuels and Bioenergy in Western Australia: Issues and challenges Conference the Western Australian Sustainable Energy Association Inc. (WA SEA) and the Sustainable Transport Coalition (STC) have joined forces again to organise a half day Seminar to examine what has happened over the past year in biofuels.

Once again, the Minister for Agriculture, Hon Kim Chance has agreed to open the Conference by providing a review of the recently released Biofuels Report. In addition, we will have a number of speakers addressing issues such as the economics of biofuels production, the future of biofuels for WA and also Peak Oil. The Seminar will conclude with a panel discussion

Registrations close Friday, 4th May, 2007.

About the Western Australian Sustainable Energy Association

The Western Australian Sustainable Energy Association (WA SEA) Inc. was established in response to an identified need for sustainable energy representation at a local level. The aim of the association is to give voice to those with an interest in sustainable energy and to promote the growth and support the development of sustainable energy technologies and practices.

About the Sustainable Transport Coalition

The Sustainable Transport Coalition (STC) is a community-based coalition advocating sustainable transport in Western Australia. The Coalition advocates more sustainable and livable communities where people are less dependent upon the car and have better access to travel alternatives. It seeks a transport system and land use pattern that facilitates access, protects the environment and promotes community.
